TO WOULD-BE "EXODUSTERS."

URGES THEM TO STAY IN THE STATE.

Three-Fourths of the White People are Their Friends and There is no Need of Leaving—Daughters of the Confederacy Send Love and Sympathy to Mrs. Jackson—Mecklenburg's Famous Middle-of-the-Roader in Raleigh Awaiting the Assembling of His Peculiar People—Other News from the State Capital.

Raleigh, Oct. 11.—The Capital Club will this evening give a special reception to the Daughters of the Confederacy. It will be followed by a dance in the hall room of the club building.

One of the social events of the week will be the marriage this evening, at the First Baptist church, of Miss Lilla May Vass, daughter of the late Maj. W. W. Vass, to Mr. Brown Shepherd, son of Ex-Chief Justice Shepherd. Miss Eleanor Vass will be maid of honor, and Mr. John C. Seymour, of New York City, best man. A reception at the home of the bride will follow the wedding.

It is proposed now by the Chamber of Commerce here to give another $600 cup for a prize for an annual debate between colleges, February 23. A cup is given annually for the intercollegiate debate between Wake Forest and Trinity on Thanksgiving Day.

The sixteenth annual conference of the Protestant Episcopal church workers among the negroes is now being held here, Rev. H. L. Phillips, of Philadelphia, presiding. Many States are represented. There was an address by Bishop Cheshire. There were discussions along all the lines of church work and effort.

A committee of the negro State conference, lately held here, issues an address to that race in North Carolina, declaring that there be no exodus, declaring that three-fourths of the whites are friends of the negroes, calling for industrial efforts and moral lives, declaring by inattention to the laws of health the negroes are being carried off in great numbers by consumption. It is an address full of good points. The fourth annual State convention of the Daughters of the Confederacy in North Carolina convened yesterday morning at 10:30 in the lecture room of the State museum, which is very effectively decorated for the occasion, as is also an adjoining hall, used for refreshment hall.

The opening prayer was by Dr. M. M. Marshall, of Christ church.

Mrs. Hinsdale, president of Johnston-Pettigrew Chapter, made an address of greeting in the name of the Chapter; Camp L. O. B. Branch Burgwyn Camp Sons of Veterans and the city of Raleigh.

Miss Lida Rodman, president of the State convention, replied.

The secretary called the roll of chapters by name and the delegates responded, giving number of delegates and names of each.

There was quite a full attendance, only a few of the twenty-five chapters not being represented. There are 1,029 members in the State. There are only four children's chapters.

The president of the convention made an opening address. Miss Rodman's address was beautifully worded.

Mrs. W. H. Overman, recording secretary of the State convention, read the minutes of the last convention. The names of the State officers were then read, and they replied.

Miss Small, of Washington, represented Miss Blount, the corresponding secretary, and read a greeting from same and the report to the convention. Mrs. Pacham, the registrar, read her report, showing an increase of membership since the last convention of 380. The last report gave an increase of 195.

Mrs. Hinsdale, the State treasurer, read her report, which made a most satisfactory showing.

Mrs. W. H. Overman, the recording secretary, read her report, which was complete.

Reports of various chapters then followed.

The secretary read invitations from L. O. B. Branch Camp and the Capital Club to a reception by each. A rising vote of thanks was tendered the camp and club.

Mrs. Jarvis gave a most comprehensive manner of teaching the children of her chapter the names of all the 300 Confederate generals and other data relating to the Confederacy.

Mrs. Jarvis moved that a resolution of sympathy be sent to Mrs. "Stonewall" Jackson, who is in a hospital at Baltimore.

Mrs. W. H. Overman offered an amendment, that a telegram of sympathy be sent from this convention. The amendment was accepted and the secretary instructed to send the telegram. It was in these words: "Loving remembrance and tender sympathy for you from the North Carolina U. D. C., in convention assembled."

The State chapters the Southern Canning Company, of Goldsboro, capital $5,000.

Hon. Manlius Junk, of Wake, is what may be termed a comprehensive politician. He said to friends at the railway station today: "Simmons will be Senator, but I prefer Waddell to anybody, though I am a Carr man." He ought to have brought in Jarvis in some way.

SECOND DAY OF THE FAIR.

IT IS A PRONOUNCED SUCCESS.

The Weather Perfect and the Crowd Immense—The Nearby Towns Sent Large Delegations—A Joyous Holiday Occasion—Everybody Surprised at the Extent and Completeness of the Exhibits—Synopsis of Yesterday's Races—Today's Trials of Speed.

The second day of the big Fair has been a decided success in every particular. The weather was perfect, being just cool enough to give one a feeling of sprightliness. The crowds, both on the streets and at the Fair grounds, were much larger than on yesterday. Many visitors arrived last night, while the trains this morning were crowded with people from the nearby towns. Hundreds from the country came by private conveyance.

The first train that ran to the Fair grounds today, at 9:30 this morning, carried a number of people, and the crowd was reinforced by trains running at intervals of every thirty minutes until there were thousands of people on the grounds. And a gay and happy crowd it was. It was a kind of joyous holiday occasion and everybody was intent on getting all the pleasure possible out of it.

The exhibits, which far exceed the expectations of every one connected with the Fair, are attracting a great deal of attention. Every available space is occupied and Exhibition Hall is filled with a steady stream of sight-seers.

The side-shows, fakirs, etc., of course draw many of the curious and credulous. Some of the side shows are very good indeed, but the others are as well patronized, for the people do not attempt to discern between the fake and the real.

ON THE RACE TRACK.

The track was a trifle heavy this afternoon, but the horses were in good condition, some of the contests were close. All were interesting.

In the first heat of the 2.45 class, trotting and pacing, Princetell won, the time being 2:33.4. Doug. Thomas, owned by Dr. J. T. J. Battle, came second; Caldwell Fox, owned by S. Boswell, third, and Serpentine fourth. Princetell is owned by Mr. W. J. Carter.

In the second heat Caldwell Fox won in 2:36.4. Doug. Thomas came second; Serpentine third, and Princetell fourth.

The third heat was won by Princetell 2:32. Doug. Thomas was second, Serpentine third and Caldwell Fox fourth. Rubico won the first heat of the 2:24 class, trotting, the time being 2:31.4. Gallant C, owned by Mr. Corbeau came second; Marie third, and Crow owned by Ira Nelson, fourth.

The second heat was also won by Rubico. Crow came second, Marie third, and Gallant C fourth.

SHIRMSH IN THE PHILIPPINES.

Thirty Americans Attacked and Routed Forty-Five Filipinos—Two Americans Killed.

By Wire to the Telegram.

Manila, Oct. 11.—Gen. Mojica's officers are surrendering and his soldiers are attempting to escape to Samoa in boats, which are being captured and his organization broken up. The captured men said that on the fifth instant thirty Americans attacked forty-five rebels in their stronghold in Camarines province and routed them, and killed ten. Two Americans were killed and three wounded.

The Little Girls Have Fun.

A number of little girls were entertained at the home of Mrs. T. A. Hawkins yesterday afternoon, in honor of Miss Gertrude Swain, of Henderson. After a peanut hunt and other enjoyable games on the lawn, the little folks were invited into the dining room, where dainty refreshments were served. At five o'clock, after bidding their little hostess good-bye, the youngsters left for their homes.

Messrs Thacker & Brockmann, in signing the petition to close today, stipulated that they did so provided all the other merchants signed. We the voters did not, and hence Messrs Thacker & Brockmann also remained open.

WHERE ROBBER'S MONEY WENT

A THIEVING CLERK'S INVESTMENT

Appropriated Some $108,000 From the Elizabethport Bank and Gave Mrs. Holt $75,000 Worth of Jewels and a 40-Trunk Wardrobe With a Trip to Paris Thrown in—His Friend Lived High While It Lasted.

New York, Oct. 10.—The police believe that Wm. Schrieber, who embezzled $100,000 from the Elizabethport Banking Company, of Elizabeth, N. J., is hiding in this city.

Former Judge Gilhooly, counsel for the institution, and a clerk, Mr. Hust, called at the West Forty-seventh street police station and asked for the service of two detectives, to watch the flat of Mrs. Anna Hart, in West Forty-eighth street, on whom Schrieber had lavished the bank's money. They had suspected that she would go to her lover, or he would come to her, and in that way his whereabouts might be discovered.

Mrs. Hart is said to have diamonds worth $20,000 and $12,000 in cash, the remnants of Schrieber's speculations, that the bank officers want to get hold of. She admits that Schrieber lived with her under the name of Wm. Hart, but claims that she has seen nothing of him since August 18.

A deputy sheriff, ex-Judge Gilhooly, and another attorney, went to Mrs. Hart's flat this afternoon. As she was not to be seen they nailed an attachment on the door. They found her later and she told them that she had nothing whatever in the apartments that belonged to Schrieber.

Mrs. Hart has somewhat of a remarkable career in this city. After passing 30 years of her life on her father's farm, near Bay Port, L. I., she came to New York about three years ago. She was Emma Smith, a daughter of a farmer who has lived for years near Bay Port, where she was born. Coming to New York, Emma Smith first met and became a protegee of a member of a leading firm of horse dealers here. This man died last year. But by this time Emma Smith, or Mrs. Hart, as she began to be known, had learned enough of city ways to steer her craft alone. She became a frequent visitor at the race tracks and it was at one of them, it is said, that she met Schrieber. In a short time the couple, under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Hart, went to live in the West Forty-eighth street apartments, leasing them for one year from November last. It was said today by a friend of Schrieber, that he had spent about $75,000 on Mrs. Hart in jewels. He purchased fashionable equipages for her use and a wardrobe that filled forty trunks. All of the jewelry was purchased from Tiffany's, included a diamond chain composed of half-carat stones. According to this informant, Schrieber sent the woman on a trip to Paris, where she lived in grand style and returned on July 16 last. Her hats and bonnets were of the latest Paris creation.

There was no excitement in Elizabethport over the news of Schrieber's defalcation, and no evidence at the bank of anxiety on the part of depositors. Counsel Gilhooly, for the board of directors, said that the shortage would not exceed $108,000. Acting for the bank Mr. Gilhooly today obtained a house and two lots owned by Schrieber, where the defaulting bank clerk resided with his people. It is also said that Schrieber jointly owned, with his brother, a house in Bayonne.

Joe Vendig, the sporting man, who was Schrieber's "bookmaker" in sporting matters, said today that he knew that Schrieber sailed for Europe on August 18.

SPEND MILLIONS TO CATCH HIM

Elizabeth N. J. Oct. 11.—President Heidritter, of the Elizabethport Banking Company, said this morning that Schrieber, the absconding clerk, is a marked man, because he is a scouter and can't escape. The President said he would spend a million to catch him.

Mr. Clark's Opinion of the Fair.

Mr. D. L. Clark, the High Point artist, says our Fair comes up to any like event he has ever seen in North Carolina, and he has attended a great many. For years he has visited the State Fair at Raleigh, but has never seen better exhibits or attractions than are at the Central Carolina Fair this week.

This is what they all say.

THE PYTHIANS ENTERTAIN.

EVENING OF RAREST ENJOYMENT.

To the Bidding of Greensboro Lodge No. 80, a Delightful Company Gathers in Castle Hall and Spends a Few Hours in the Enjoyment of the Social Feature of Pythianism—Happy Speeches, Charming Music and a Splendid Supper Composed the Evening's Entertainment.

"The Greensboro Pythians are a lot of jolly good fellows" was the verdict of all who were so fortunate as to be the guests of Greensboro Lodge No. 80 last night. The members of this lodge extended to all other Pythians in the city a most cordial invitation to meet in their Castle Hall and spend a few hours in the enjoyment of the social feature of the order, and it was the pleasure of quite a number of loyal and true Knights to avail themselves of the proffered hospitality. The presence of a number of ladies added greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion.

Chancellor Commander Denny called the assembly to order and announced that the exercises would be opened by singing the ode used in opening the regular lodge work.

After the singing of the ode, Mr. L. M. Sturgis, a young and bright Pythian, delivered a short and appropriate address of welcome. In choice and beautiful language, every word breathing the spirit of good cheer and hospitality, he extended a most cordial and hearty welcome to all visitors.

Mr. J. A. Stout, a member of Phoenix Lodge No. 62, of Danville, responded to the welcome, expressing the gratification all felt in being present.

Mr. W. G. Frasier, one of the new members of No. 80, was next called for. Since it was only recently that he had trod the dark and devious path that leads to an explanation of the mysteries surrounding Pythian Knighthood, it was quite natural that his speech should have been something of a dissertation on goats. His explanation of the digestive power of No. 80's fourteen-year-old gray Billy and the method of receiving applications for membership was entirely satisfactory.

Decidedly one of the most pleasing features of the evening was Miss Meta Beall's solo, "The Song That Reached My Heart." Miss Beall has a sweet, melodious voice and sings "with the spirit and the understanding." Her solo last night so captivated every one in the hall that she was forced to respond to a hearty encore.

Dr. Koon, a visiting Knight from Danville, was called to the floor and made a most appropriate talk on "Pythian Fraternity." He spoke of the strong band of fellowship in friendship, charity and benevolence by which Pythians everywhere and under all circumstances are bound.

About 11 o'clock the tables were spread for the bounteous repast that followed the feast of other good things. Covers were laid for 150, and it is safe to say that a supper was never enjoyed more. The bill of fare was full and complete and was well served. It was prepared by Hotel Clegg and served under the personal supervision of Mr. W. F. Clegg, who is no amateur when it comes to such matters.

From time to time during the evening the company was regaled with splendid musical selections by one of the Moore Optical and Talking Machine Company's best concert graphophones.

It was past the midnight hour when the guests reluctantly took their departure, freely acknowledging themselves indebted to Greensboro Lodge No. 80, Knights of Pythias, for an evening of the rarest enjoyment.

A Little Child Run Over.

While playing on Summit avenue, near its intersection with Church and Lindsay streets, yesterday afternoon, little Ellie Harkness was run over and painfully hurt by a buggy. The lady and gentleman occupying the vehicle did not see the child until too late to prevent the accident, and both wheels on one side passed over its body before the horse could be stopped. The gentleman carried Ellie to her home and summoned a physician, who dressed the wounds. The child was able to be out this morning.

GUILFORD TEAM A WINNER.

An Interesting Game of Football at the Fair Grounds.

That was an interesting game of football at the Fair grounds yesterday afternoon between the teams of Guilford College and the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts. The latter was heavier than the Guilford team, but was unable to stand before the Quakers, who won the game by a score of 5 to 0. Neither team scored a touch down in the last half.

The contest was spirited and was witnessed by a large crowd of interested spectators.

City Hall Muddle Settled by Arbitration.

Work on the city Hall and market house was stopped early in the week on account of a misunderstanding between the architect, Mr. O. M. Gates, and the contractor, Mr. W. C. Bain. There was a disagreement between these gentlemen as to specifications or something of the kind, and the matter was referred to a board of arbitration composed of Messrs. J. N. Longest and A. A. Wells.

The arbitrators met yesterday afternoon, and after canvassing the matter, decided in favor of the architect.

NOT GOING TO COMBINE.

Postal Telegraph-Cable Company Denies That It is Contemplating Consolidation.

New York, October 1.—To our patrons: Persistent rumors are in circulation regarding a pending combination of the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company, Commercial Cable Company, Western Union Telegraph Company, and American Bell Telephone Company with the Telephone, Telegraph and Cable Company of America. The officers of the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company and of the Commercial Cable Company deny emphatically that either company is contemplating any such combination and state that the control of Postal Telegraph-Cable Company and of the Commercial Cable Company is not for sale.

Very respectfully,
POSTAL TELEGRAPH-CABLE COMPANY,

END OF THE WEEKLY'S REPLY.

MORE OF WEBSTER TO JUDGE ALLEN

Mr. Webster Defends Himself for Quoting the Clinton Caucasian—Finds No Suggestion That Mr. Simmons Was Out of Harmony With Cleveland and Ransom. Quotes the Fayetteville Observer and the Wilmington Messenger Against Mr. Simmons—Tells What Senator Vance Said of Him.

Yesterday, by request, we published a part of Webster's Weekly's reply to Judge Allen. The remainder is given below.

Judge Allen waxes indignant because the "exchange" we quoted from as to Mr. Simmons' Wayne county speech was the Caucasian, then published at Goldsboro. He says that Mr. Simmons did not say what was attributed to him; that it was manufactured by Mr. Marion Butler in his office at Goldsboro. We have never seen the report of Mr. Simmons' speech in this particular contradicted by any Democratic paper. Will not Judge Allen name the paper that did it at the time? It ought not to be a difficult task. It is very easy to call Butler a falsifier—and the good Lord knows his sins are many and grievous—but the circumstances all indicate the contrary view in this instance. We find a report of a rousing speech Mr. S. made in the Congressional convention at Raleigh that year, in the North Carolinian, in which he lambasted the Populists pretty much like the Caucasian reported him later on, and not a word do we find in it to show that he was not likely to express himself as the Caucasian reported him in October. We find references to speeches he made at several places, in the State, but not even a suggestion that he was out of harmony with Cleveland and Ransom. The Charlotte Observer, commenting on the report of one of his speeches, at that time, said it had heard good reports from him elsewhere and pronounced him a strong man. We were not at all surprised at the time to see Mr. Simmons credited with such sentiments. They were in harmony with Senator Ransom's views, and everybody knows that the chief end of that campaign was to re-elect him to the Senate. He contributed more than half of all the money that came into the State Chairman's hands to defray the expenses of the campaign, according to the Charlotte Observer. And it was that paper that praised Mr. Simmons speeches.

In his zeal to score a point for his candidate Judge Allen is unmindful of some interesting political history in this State. There is an old proverb to the effect that no man becomes suddenly vile. If Mr. Marion Butler was altogether vile in 1894, so vile that his paper could not give a truthful debate between Mr. Simmons and himself, the disease must have had a good hold on him in 1892, yet we find in a paper that is now supporting Judge Allen's candidate that Mr. Simmons was closeted with this same Mr. Butler at Clinton in 1892, after Butler had declared for Weaver, and by virtue of his official position induced the Democratic congressional convention there assembled to ratify a platform that was in conflict with the national platform of the Democratic party. We will quote from the Fayetteville Observer of Nov. 9, 1893.

"Mr. Simmons, however, has never explained why he did not require a reconsideration of the vote repudiating the Chicago platform, as soon as the withdrawal of the bolters on the choice of a Presidential Elector demonstrated that his concessions of principle, made to prevent a bolt, were useless. People naturally said and did say, 'Has Mr. Simmons, the trustee of the Democratic party, bargained away his trust in return for a private consideration—for example, the next nomination to Congress?' Delegates returning from the convention reported that he and one other were closeted with Mr. Marion Butler, who had already declared for Weaver, in Mr. Butler's office at Clinton. A newspaper of the highest standing related that it was stated upon good authority that Mr. Simmons' selection as chairman was made at the dictation of Mr. Butler. And finally the original draft of the platform which Mr. Simmons, by the prestige of his position as chairman of the State Committee, had induced the convention to ratify, came into evidence, and, lo! there it was, written on Marion Butler's official paper!"

Does Judge Allen consider the Fayetteville Observer good authority? Does he consider the Wilmington Messenger a Democratic paper? That able journal said in its issue of February 1, 1894:

"Let us say that against Mr. Simmons personally—in his private rela-is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity.

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been too low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

And ours is the place to get the stuff.

tions—we have nothing to say. We know very little of him. We did wonder when he was made Chairman. We thought it a huge mistake, because of some political antecedents, and the events that have followed have fully confirmed us as to the sanity and correctness of our forecast. We believe that his blunder at Clinton (not to call it now by a severer name) was tremendous and most inexcusable. Politically we could never trust any man after playing that marvellous role."

When Judge Allen has refuted the Fayetteville Observer's allegations it may be in order for him to point the finger of scorn at us for quoting from Marion Butler's paper. In the meantime we shall hold to the belief that a Populist who was good enough for Mr. Simmons to "connubiate" with in 1892 and to "argify" with in 1894, must not have been so bad the latter year as Judge Allen tries to paint him.

[Say, Judge, did not Senator Vance quote a leading Populist, Harry Skinner, in regard to a statement he heard Mr. Simmons make in 1893? With this precedent and the testimony of the Fayetteville Observer as to the intimate relations between Mr. Simmons and Mr. Butler in 1892, was it not reasonable for the Weekly to conclude that it had a right to quote from Mr. Butler's paper of six years ago, especially when it had every reason to believe the quotation was absolutely true?]

Judge Allen incorporates in his communication a statement from Mr. Jas. H. Fox stating that his connection with the Stevens anti-trust bill was of a friendly character. This is widely at variance with the News and Observer's account of his attitude toward that measure. We will quote:

"Mr. Stevens said he was surprised that Mr. Fox should oppose the bill, because he had agreed to the bill as it passed the House. Mr. Fox said he was acting in behalf of clients."

Mr. Fox further expressed the opinion that there were no trusts in North Carolina.

The News and Observer has never corrected the above, so far as we have seen. The issue is between Mr. Fox and that paper. The ugly fact stands out that no trusts have been indicted under the law that he assures us he was interested in perfecting. His brother is the solicitor of his district and an able lawyer and a member of the firm of Simmons, Pou and Warde. If there was any virtue in the law we are sure that he would have invoked its power ere this.

Mr. Pou says that Mr. Simmons received no part of the fee he got for his services in this or any other matter in which he appeared before the Legislature. It would be interesting to know if Mr. Simmons' influence was a help or a hindrance to his partner in getting this class of work to do. If he was not in sympathy with the work of his partner, a word from him would have brought his plans to naught. And ought he not to have given such a notice publicly? Did he do it? If so, when and how?

Mr. Simmons in his open letter to Mr. J. D. Allen, of Wake county, says that Senator Vance did not oppose his confirmation as Collector upon personal grounds. In this he is contradicted by the Senator himself, who wrote to the Asheville Citizen from Tampa, Fla., Feb. 5, 1894:

"I shall oppose Mr. Simmons' confirmation on personal as well as public grounds—grounds connected with his unfitness to hold the position for which he has been appointed."

Mr. Simmons denies that he exerted his influence with members of the Legislature of 1899 save in the interest of the amendment and the election law. The following interview with Senator Wm. Lindsey, of Rockingham county, than whom there is no truer or purer man in the State, shows that he was very much in evidence, and on the wrong side, in the fight to tax the railroads upon their gross receipts, spending two days in lobbying against it and defeating it in the Senate after it had passed the House and been favorably reported by a unanimous vote of the finance committee of the Senate:

"Question. Mr. Simmons in an open letter to J. D. Allen says he did no lobbying during the regular session of '99 save to help secure the passage of the amendment, the election law, etc. Is that true?"

"Answer. No, Sir. While the machinery bill was being discussed in the Senate Chamber Mr. Simmons spent two days on the floor of the Senate fighting that provision of the bill which would tax the gross receipts of the railroads, and to my personal knowledge induced two Senators who were for it to vote against it."

"Question. Was the action of Mr. Simmons in this matter resented by any Senator?"

"Answer. Yes, sir. Two other Senators besides myself seriously discussed the propriety of offering a resolution denying the privileges of the floor to any one save actual members of the Senate and its corps of officials expressly to get rid of Mr. Simmons' officious interference with the legislation then before the Senate."

It is for the people of North Carolina to say whether they think Mr. Simmons is the man to send to Washington to hold up Mr. Bryan's hands.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1900.

WILL THE STRIKE BE SETTLED.

Says the Philadelphia Record:

Practical unanimity having been attained on the part of the anthracite miners and carrying interests in offering to the strikers terms of inducement to return to work, the managers of the strike have responded by calling a miners' convention, to meet at Scranton on Friday next to take the offer into consideration.

A 10 per cent. advance in wages and arbitration of grievances are the matters to be considered.

There is dissent upon the part of some of the miners, who would stand out for better terms, but there is hardly a doubt that the offer of the operators will be accepted. It is a substantial triumph for the strikers, and whether the miners' union shall be formally recognized or not is a matter of but slight consequence. There is tacit recognition in the general concession of higher wages and arbitration. Having obtained so much it would be folly upon the part of the victors to imperil their advantage and to invite the additional suffering which would be entailed by further stoppage.

The officers of the labor organization announce that they will attempt in no way to force the decision of the miners. This is well. It too often happens that the leaders, not themselves bearing the suffering entailed upon the men, are stubborn and unreasonable. A considerable concession has been gained by the miners in a strike that has been so far entirely peaceful. We make no denial that our sympathies were altogether with the miners, if the published reports of their grievances were correct, and we are glad that they have gained concessions. It is to be hoped that their success will not so elate them as to cause them to make demands which they cannot accomplish.

It is a common saying that as New York goes, the nation goes. This has invariably been true since the war, and on only two occasions did the successful Presidential candidate receive votes enough to elect him had New York gone against him. These occasions were the election of Cleveland in 1892 and of McKinley in 1896. It is pretty certain, though, that not only will the election go this year as New York goes, but that New York's vote will be the one which will so carry it. McKinley carried the State in 1896 by 268,000 majority. With Mr. Croker's boasted city majority for Bryan of 100,000 there must still be a considerable gain before the State goes for Mr. Bryan, but as the State has alternated for years between the two parties, there need be no surprise if Mr. Bryan carries it this year.

The campaign claimer is more rampant this year than ever before. At present the most liberal Republican estimates give Mr. Bryan a part of the solid South, and Democrats can be found who are willing to admit that Mr. McKinley may carry some of New England.

This thing of going back to the files is disagreeable.

Askin—"I thought you were going to send your son to college." Teller—"He couldn't pass the examination." Askin—"Is it possible? I thought he was such a bright student." Teller—"Oh, he was all right as a student, but he was too light to make the football team."

It doesn't take a married woman to husband her resources.

The Soldiers' Home, died this morning at 7:45. He was blind and fell a few days ago, breaking his leg. He was 85 years old and this proved a serious accident. Mr. Friddell was a member of Company L, 21st N. C. Regiment, and came to the Home last May from Alamance county.

Twenty-two of the 25 chapters are represented. There are 1,029 members, a gain of 385 in a year. For the Jefferson Davis monument fund the chapters reported $912 as raised. Speeches were made yesterday afternoon by Col. Keer, Capt. C. B. Denson, Gov. Jarvis and Oscar Blackwell. Capt. Denson was the orator of the day. In the evening a reception was given by the local chapter.

Great regret is expressed of the fact that C. B. Aycock is physically unable to speak during the National campaign. There were many requests for him from all parts of the State.

Six counties fail to make report to the auditor for last year. He will not say which are the counties, as the register of deeds, if thus exposed, must be sued. The penalty for such failure is severe.

J. P. Sossaman, the apostle of middle-of-the-road Populism, in North Carolina, arrived yesterday to be ready for the convention of his "peculiar people" today. He is ardent in the cause of Barker and Donnelly and thinks Populism yet liveth and that there are 650 of the "elect" in the good county of Mecklenburg. Dr. C. Y. Thompson of that ilk is a warm supporter of Dr. Sossaman and seems to be very squarely in the middle-of-the-road. Congressman Atwater says the Populists will vote for Bryan. "Nay, nay, Pauline," says Capt. R. B. Davis, Populist State Secretary, who is a McKinley man. Dr. Sossamon says they will vote for Barker and Donnelly. As a matter of fact, a lot of them will vote for McKinley.

The cool weather gets the glad hand here. Steam was turned on in the capitol yesterday.

This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle-working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, run-down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by C. E. Holton, druggist.

AN OCTOBER WEDDING.

The Union of Mr. Butner and Miss Prince. A Pretty Marriage.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated in the Spring Garden Street Methodist chapel last night, the contracting parties being Mr. L. V. Butner and Miss Lula Prince. The chapel was made attractive by beautiful decorations of ferns, plants, etc.

The groom entered with his best man, Mr. Sid. N. Peters. The bride was accompanied down the aisle by her sister and maid of honor, Miss Rosa Prince. The other attendants were Mr. Robert G. Stockton with Miss Lizzie Jackson and Mr. T. G. Frazier with Miss McClarmoch, Messrs. W. P. Fields and W. A. Chislohm were the ushers. The wedding march was played by Miss Brown, of Winston.

The ceremony of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, was used, the words which joined the happy young couple together being said by Rev. Dr. L. W. Crawford, editor of the Advocate. The impressive ceremony was witnessed by a large number of the friends of the contracting parties. After the ceremony a reception was tendered the wedding party at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Butner were the recipients of a number of beautiful and costly presents.

PRIVATE JOHN ALLEN.

"Charles B. Hanford," who appears at the Academy of Music Friday night next, is a name to conjure with in every city where his splendid impersonations of the characters of the classic drama have been seen. He is an actor whose heart is in his work and whose training was secured under the tuition of such men as Edwin Booth, Lawrence Barrett, Thomas W. Keene and others whose names stand for artistic eminence or popular applause. Sincere as has been his devotion to the higher drama, Mr. Hanford has never been one of those who believed that it was the right of an artist however eminent, to assemble an audience and then proceed to "educate" it, regardless of its tastes and preferences. As a result, his impersonations have been human and sympathetic and never stilted. A graceful personality, the cast of countenance which marks the natural orator, he wins confidence at once and is followed faithfully in the swiftest glance of the eye or the minutest intonation of the voice.

When he receives applause, it is not the mere tribute of a dazzled intelligence which admires without knowing why he makes his characters men of flesh and bones and human impulses with whom the auditor sympathizes thoroughly, down to every word and syllable of his most casual speech.

It was his success in this respect that made Mr. Hanford long to get away for at least a season from the artificiality of blank verse and portray a man of today; a hero born and bred on American soil. He found in the title role of "Private John Allen" a character which admirably adapted itself to this purpose, for although "Private John Allen" disdains the elegant rhythms of blank verse and expresses himself in honest colloquial English, he is a man of wonderful natural dignity, whose personality commands instant admiration and enduring respect. Mr. Hanford has spared neither care nor money in securing a proper mounting for his new play and in organizing a company capable of doing justice to the many strong parts it contains. Miss Marie Drofnah, an actress whose splendid talents have been widely recognized, is his leading lady for this play.

Large sun spots, astronomers say, caused the extreme heat this summer, and doctors declare nearly all the prostrations were induced by disorders of the stomach. Good health follows good digestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat. If you have indigestion or dyspepsia it will quickly relieve and permanently cure you.

Howard Gardner.

It takes more nerve than voice to become a society vocalist.

Do not get scared if your heart troubles you. Most likely you suffer from indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and gives the worn out stomach perfect rest. It is the only preparation known that completely digests all classes of foods; that is why it cures the worst cases of indigestion and stomach trouble after everything else has failed. It may be taken in all conditions and cannot help but do you good.

This is the season when mothers are alarmed on account of croup. It is quickly cured by One Minute Cough Cure, which children like to take. Howard Gardner.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

NEW YORK'S FIRE-DOG.

Through a Baker's Window, to Run After His Engine.

St. Nicholas has been publishing a series of articles about the fire department of New York, written by Charles Hill, the artist. In a late issue Mr. Hill tells about "Peter Spots"—Fireman, a dog that belongs to one of the engine companies. The dog once fell into disgrace by playfully snapping at the heads of the horses when they were running to a fire and causing them to balk. So he was given to a baker who lived far from the engine house. Mr. Hill gives the following account, in the language of one of the firemen, of the manner in which "Peter Spots" came back to the company:

"We had almost forgotten about Peter, and got used to not having him around, when one day a 'third alarm' came in that took us out; and in getting to the station I had to drive through the street the baker's place was on. I never thought of myself, but on my word, Peter hadn't forgotten us; and when we made our appearance he showed up pretty quick. The baker told me all about it afterward, and this was the way it happened: Peter was lying asleep beside the stove in the center of the bake shop, when all of a sudden he pricked up one ear, and then jumped to his feet and gave a bark. The baker was making out some bills behind the counter, and thought nothing of it until the next moment Peter gave a jump, and was in the show window among the pies and cakes and such like. The baker bawled to him to get out; but Peter began to claw at the window and bark and howl. You see he could hear our whistle and bell and had recognized us. Then the baker made up his mind that the dog had gone mad, and got frightened and got up on a chair, and began to holler himself; and what with the baker and Peter, there was a high old time in that bake shop for awhile.

THE CAME, GLASS AND ALL.

Every time Peter gave a kick he knocked a pie or a plate full of cakes out of the window until he had it clear everything. Then we hove in sight; and through the side of the show-window he saw us and recognized me the seat, and that settled it—no shop would hold him then. He jumped back in the store, braced himself in front of the pane of glass the door, and when we were just opposite he gave one last howl, crashed out he came through glass all.

I heard the racket, and turned my head just in time to see him come flying out. I understood it all in a moment, and expected to see him roll over dead in the gutter; but he didn't! He came through so easily he scarcely got a scratch; and he went, down the street ahead of us, barking at everyone, and clearing the way just as he used to, and running around in a circle and jumping in the air and cutting up gymnastics.

tics—and happy?—well, I just guess he was happy! Even the captain heard him in all the racket behind the engine, and let up on the whistle long enough to holler ahead to me to look out and not run over him; but there was small fear of that, for he beat us by half a block all the way to the fire.

"When we got there we 'stretched in and stood fast,' as we call it, which means we stretched in the hose, and got ready to go to work when so ordered; but they didn't need us, for the fire was pretty well out then, and the third alarm had only been sent out as a sort of precaution; so in a few moments the chief ordered us back to quarters.

"When we were 'picking up,' or putting the hose back in the wagon, Peter was around among us like old times, and every one of the 'gang' had a kind word for him. He was cut a bit about the back with glass, so the captain says: 'Throw him in the wagon, boys, and we'll take him back to the house and mend him up. I'll put him on probation; and if he acts right he can stay with us as long as he wants.' And then he adds: 'But you fellows will have to chip in and pay for that pane of glass.' And we all laughed; for we were willing to pay for a whole show window to get Peter back again."

TO BE MADE KING.

Sweden Decline to Retire the Venerable Oscar and Elevate Gustaf to the Throne.

Prince Gustaf of Sweden and Norway, in whose favor it is proposed to retire King Oscar, is the heir apparent to the throne and represents a political party diametrically opposed to that which rallies around the aged monarch. His majesty's recent expression of sympathy for Britain has roused popular feeling in Sweden, where the masses are all for the Boers. It is reported that the cabinet will request the king to abdicate on June 16, which is the birth anniversary of the crown prince. Gustaf is the most unpopular member of the royal family. If the election of a king were left to the people the choice would undoubtedly fall on Prince Karl, the third son of Oscar II. Gustaf is very radical in his conceptions of the correct policy toward Norway, and it is known that he is bitterly opposed to the late action of the king in recalling Swedish officers from the sister country at the request of the Norwegians.

A Day of Sun-Dogs.

The peculiar condition of the atmosphere over southern England and western France on January 11 gave rise to extraordinary exhibitions of solar halos, or sun-dogs, described in the scientific journals of both countries. The phenomena were very beautiful, the sun being surrounded with concentric circles and inverted arches showing rainbow colors, while mock suns appeared among the halos. They were caused by clouds of minute ice-crystals floating at a great elevation.

This is the fourth solid car load they have received this year, and any one contemplating the purchase of an instrument can not afford to buy before seeing them. PREVENTED A TRAGEDY.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, O., prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had kept her awake every night. She tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.
